Question by DaBoi: How does searching for real estate work?

well I'm searching for a new home and every real estate website contains the same home. who do I contact if I want to view a home? Does the home have a specific real estate company or is every company able to have it?

You get your own real estate agent. He/she will work for YOU. If you go the one listed, he/she works for the SELLER.

Multiple listing service allows all member real estate agents to sell the listed home and split the commissions.
