

Published based on What SLR camera would you recommend for a real estate agent?

What SLR camera would you recommend for a real estate agent?

Question by Tara H: What SLR camera would you recommend for a real estate agent?

I am considering buying a new camera for my real estate business as well as personal use. It will mostly be used for interior shots so a wide angle lens is essential.

Thanks!

Best answer:

Answer by keerok

Any will do. They are all basically the same. The cheapest right now is a Sony. Around $ 400. The kit lens will go from wide to short tele, enough for interior shots and general purpose shooting.

Give your answer to this question below!

You can also find this article published on What SLR camera would you recommend for a real estate agent?, and on the tag pages Agent, camera, Estate, Real, recommend, would.