

Published based on Today in the press

Today in the press

Today in the press

The National Asset Management Agency imposed no haircut on AIB's loan on the Montevetro building in Dublin.
Read more on RTE News

The Return of Stagflation?

The Dow up 95 points yesterday. Gold flat. You remember stagflation from the '70s. Prices rose. The economy didn't. It seems to be happening again – thanks to the feds.

Read more on Business Insider

Record stock losses in Egypt may extend decline

CAIRO: Egypt's benchmark stock index may extend losses that made it the world's worst performer this year after a monthlong suspension ends on March 6 amid political unrest in the Middle East. The EGX 30 Index slid 16 percent in the week before the bourse stopped trading on Jan. 27 because of a popular revolt that ended the 30-year rule of President Hosni Mubarak

Read more on The Daily Star Lebanon

You can also find this article published on Today in the press, and on the tag pages press, today.