The Leon County Property Appraiser's Website: Worthy Of Your Visit!

As the current Leon County Property Appraiser, Bert Hartsfield has created a wonderful resource with his office's website. They offer this service as an extension of their office and most visitors will find it useful in obtaining information on properties in Leon County.

The primary mission of the Leon County Property Appraiser's Office is to locate, identify, and appraise (at current market value), all property subject to ad valorem taxes, maintain market value equity on the tax roll, and administer all exemptions in accordance with Florida Statutes and the Rules and Regulations of the Florida Department of Revenue.

Part of that mission involves assisting visitors (citizens, taxing authorities, and local government) in accessing and utilizing the tremendous real estate database, maps, and other realty information which they maintain and keep updated.

As a Tallahassee real estate agent, I use this site almost every single day as part of the extensive research that I conduct for the Tallahassee real estate website. The Property Appraiser's website is quick and has a good amount of information that both home buyers and home sellers are seeking. I provide the rest of the information on my website.

The Leon County Property Appraiser's office works on a regular basis to improve its offerings and serve Leon County in the most professional and cost-efficient manner possible. Therefore, they have established 24 hour access to the public records of their office through the internet, convenient satellite filing locations for Homestead Exemption applications as well as Saturday and after-hours availability, a comprehensive review of agricultural properties, and downloadable, online forms to eliminate the need for a physical trip to their office.

When you want to know more information about a home in Tallahassee, the Leon County Property Appraiser's website is worthy of a visit. The site was created as an effort to provide public access to Tallahassee home sales data at your convenience. Most users find it rewarding to be able to get the volume of information offered on the site without having to drive to downtown Tallahassee, and you most likely will find this to be true as well.
